

conjunction Karate

EXpansion Deck

Decide which conjunction (or, but, and) is the best choice to combine the two sentences given. The student who finds the most karate medals wins.

1. Jen went to the mall.
2. She got new shoes.

The Speech Bubble

1. Take the dog for a walk.
2. Clean your room.

The Speech Bubble

1. He has to read two chapters.
2. Kevin has to write a book report.

The Speech Bubble

1. Put away the groceries.
2. Can you get the mail?

The Speech Bubble

1. Alex got the lead in the school play.
2. He is on the track team.

The Speech Bubble

1. Kara played soccer.
2. She scored a goal.

The Speech Bubble

1. I like hot dogs.
2. I like cheeseburgers.

The Speech Bubble

1. Tom has two sisters.
2. He has three brothers.

The Speech Bubble

1. I am too short.
2. I want to ride the roller coaster.

The Speech Bubble

1. He wants cheese pizza.
2. They are out of cheese.

The Speech Bubble

1. She is sick.
2. Ashley wants to go on the field trip.

The Speech Bubble

1. I don't have enough cookies.
2. I want to share.

The Speech Bubble

1. Maybe tomorrow.
2. I can't come over today.

The Speech Bubble

1. Anna won the award.
2. She is not here.

The Speech Bubble

1. I want to sit down.
2. There are no more chairs.

The Speech Bubble

1. It is raining.
2. Ben wants to play outside.

The Speech Bubble

1. You can have cereal.
2. You can have pancakes.

The Speech Bubble

1. Do you know the way?
2. Are we lost?

The Speech Bubble

1. You can sit in the front.
2. You can sit in the back.

The Speech Bubble

1. You can clean your room after dinner.
2. You can clean your room now.

The Speech Bubble

1. Did you hear him?
1. Should we ask him to repeat it?

The Speech Bubble

1. We can take the train.
2. We can take the bus.

The Speech Bubble

1. You can stay home.
2. You can go to school.

The Speech Bubble

1. We can go on vacation.
2. We can stay home.

The Speech Bubble

Congratulations!
You won 1st place in
your karate tournament!

The Speech Bubble

Congratulations!
You won 1st place in
your karate tournament!

The Speech Bubble

Congratulations!
You won 1st place in
your karate tournament!

The Speech Bubble

Congratulations!
You won 1st place in
your karate tournament!

The Speech Bubble

Congratulations!
You won 1st place in
your karate tournament!

The Speech Bubble

Congratulations!
You won 1st place in
your karate tournament!

The Speech Bubble

Congratulations!
You won 1st place in
your karate tournament!

The Speech Bubble

Congratulations!
You won 1st place in
your karate tournament!

The Speech Bubble